Castine Awarded Three Major Commission Management Contracts

May 29, 2019

RIDGEWOOD, NJ, May 29, 2019

Castine was recently awarded three major contracts for its Commander commission management platform. Brokers use Commander as an end-to-end solution for unbundling commissions, managing research payments and integrating with operations and accounting for a seamless experience.

Robin Hodgkins, Castine's President says, "we are seeing significant and accelerating momentum as the global market gravitates towards our proven expertise complemented by strong technological advances. With these and other client additions, the broker dealer community is leveraging Castine's deep expertise and decades of commission management experience."

Two of the recent project awards also included additional modules from Castine's C3 broker platform – Spinnaker (platform addressing research pricing, interaction management under MiFID II) and Telescope (operational due diligence solution).

Tom Smith, EVP adds, "for broker dealers seeking to succeed in a highly competitive market environment, Castine's software provides the expert solutions needed to optimize client profitability and make informed decisions."

About Castine

The Castine C3 platform of integrated modules lets clients focus on specific areas where gains can be quickly realized with the confidence that the suite can grow as their needs change.

Modules include commission management, research consumption, pricing, and reviews; compliance; trader and adviser compensation.
